The Tower Realty Company yesterday sold to the Avenue Corner Realty Company the northwest corner of Washington avenue and Fifteenth street, lot 105 feet 11 inches by 131 feet 8 inches, through to Lucas avenue, for $128,000.

The property is improved with two houses. inches by 132 feet 8 inches, through to Lucas avenue, for $125,000.

The property is improved with two houses, Nos. 1501 and 1509 Washington avenue, which bring in a fair rental, but in a short time, it is believed, the rapid growth westward of the wholesale business houses on Washington avenue will cause a handsomer structure to be erected. Meantime, the investment will prove profitable. The sale was made by Nicholis-Ritter Reality and Financial Company and the Holbrook-Blackwelder Real Estate Trust Company, and the price paid, $1,300 a foot, is the highest that has been paid in that part of the city.

Nicholis-Ritter also closed the sale yesterday of the northwest corner of Sixteenth and Washington, having a front of 115 feet 1% inches on the north line of Washington avenue by a depth of 132 feet 2 inches on the west line of Sixteenth atreet through to Lucas avenue, this property fronting on three streets. This sale also was made to the Avenue Corner Reality Company, for the account of Henry Jones, and is the same

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Washington, April 38-Mr. William Merritt Chase, recognized as probably the greatest of American painters, has just completed painting a portrait of Secretary Hitchcock. Only some touching up in the background and clothing remains to be done. The portrait is a striking ilkeness of the Secretary.

background and clothing remains to be done. The portrait is a striking likeness of the Secretary.

It is painted full-length and the pose is a pleasing relief from the stereotyped attitude of sitting at a desk, with a portfolio in the hands, or standing in front of a desk or a chair. His right hand is partly closed, resting on his hip, turning back the fold of his Prince Albert coat. In his left hand are his hat and gloves.

Every line and feature of the Secretary's face are brought out with just the proper emphasis and shading. The portrait will be shown at the St. Louis Exposition in the portion of the Government exhibit to be made by the Interior Department.

SUSPENDED OFFICER CANNOT CLAIM SALARY

Court of Appeals Reverses Decision in Case Brought by Marshal of Thayer.

MRS. GLOVER GETS VERDICT.

Insurance Suit Remanded Because Premiums on Policy Were Not Returned-Other Decisions.

The St. Louis Court of Appeals has decided in the case of George H. Blackwell against the city of Thayer that an office ho is lawfully suspended cannot recovsalary for the period of his suspension, regardless of whether he is finally removed. Blackwell was Marshal of Thayer Charges were preferred against him last spring that he was interested in a gambling game, and encouraged gambling. He was suspended. He resigned and the prosecutions were dismissed.

Blackwell then sued for salary and the lower court held that unless the proceedings against him culminated in his removal from office he should have judgment for salary. The judgment was reversed and the case remanded for another trial, there being evidence that the suit embraced wages for two days before he was suspended. Judge Goode wrote the opinion

SMOKE STACK ORDERED REMOVED.

The Appellate Court affirmed the decision of the Cucuit Court directing that a smoke, stack attached to a building at Broadway and Locust street, belonging to the Kennett estate, be removed. The smokestack projects from the Kennett estate building into a private alley, eleven feet six inches above the surface of the building over the alley.

The St. Louis Safe Deposit and Savings Bank, which owns and occupies the building over the alley.

The St. Louis Safe Deposit and Savings Bank, which owns and occupies the building across the alley, brought suit to have the smokestack removed, and asked that bay windows on the Kennett estate building, which project over the alley, be removed. The court declined to make the order. Judge Goode wrote the opinion.

MONEY PART OF ESTATE. In an opinion by Judge Bland the Appellate Court held that Midred A. Glover, administratrix of the estate of Samuel T. Glover, is entitled to a fund of S.766.83. It represents, with interest, $1.721.60, which belonged to clients of the law firm of Glover & Shepley, which was left with the attorneys in 1881 and not claimed. The heirs of Shepley waived claim to the rund. The Circuit Court held that the fund should be paid into the State Treasury under the escheat statute. The Appellate Court held that the owners of the fund were creditors of the estate of Glover & Shepley, and when they did not claim the money that it became part of the estate.

INSURANCE CASE REVERSED. SMOKE STACK ORDERED REMOVED.

INSURANCE CASE REVERSED. The finding of the Circuit Court in favor of the Empire Life Insurance Company in the suit of Timothy Lavin on a $1.00 policy on the life of Edward McGuire was reversed and the case remanded for another trial. The company claimed that McGuire made incorrect statements in obtaining the insurance. Judge Bland, who wrote the opinion, held the company should have offered to return to Lavin $11.25, which he paid as assessments on the policy, which was assigned to him.

Against Merchants' Exchange.

Austin El Babcock was given 117,990 damages against the St. Louis Merchants' Exchange by a jury in the Clayton Circuit Court yesterday. Of this amount $1,000 was against the against damages, and $19,000 as punitive dumages.

The jury was unanimously in favor of giving the plaintiff a verdict, and only differed upon the amount, but after thirty minutes' deliberation awarded the amount stated. Babcock suced for $29,000.

The suit grew out of fictboock's arrest August 14, 1875-on a sharke of trespassing on improved real estate. The churge was preferred by the Merchants' Exchange, and was the culmination of a series of devices employed by the defendant to keep the plaintiff off its premises at Third and Pine streets. The first arrest was a month previous on a charge of vagrancy, and the second on a charge of vagrancy, and the second on a charge of vagrancy, and the second on the second on a charge of unitarity the peace of Narthaniel Moffett.

Babcock was a subtenant in the Merchants' Erchanges building and maintained that he was not a trespasser.

The charges against the defendant were not austained, and he then instituted suit for damges on the ground of malicious prosecution. At a preceding trial in Clayton he was nonsuited, the court holding that the defendant had a right to exclude him from the building. The Supreme Court sustained this view, but its decision did not apply to the trespass charge, and it was on this ground that Babcock based the ause of action on which he received a verdict yesterday.
